

Work shop between Japanese and Norwegian researchers within traceability and food safety

Agenda

Saturday August 28 – Monday August 30

Trip to Frøya and Hitra.

Monday August 30

19:00 Dinner at Smedstuveien 22 (very simple local restaurant with surprise menu)

Tuesday August 31

10:00 - 11:00 Welcome and introduction; history and status for bilateral cooperation, the work towards a bilateral research agreement between Japan and Norway, and FMRIC, NRIFS, SINTEF and Nofima in particular

- Jostein Storøy, SINTEF
- Keisuke Nakayama, Innovation Norway
- nn, Norwegian Research Council

11:00 - 12:00 Status for national/regional traceability and food safety research in Japan, Norway, Nordic Countries and EU (very short ppt presentations of different relevant projects and initiatives)

- Jun Sakai, FMRIC, Tokyo
- Michiaki Yamashita, NRIFS, Yokohama
- Petter Olsen, Kathryn Donnelly, Nofima
- Eskil Forås, Maitri Thakur, Ida Aursand, Inger Beate Standal, Jostein Storøy, SINTEF

12:00 – 13:00 Lunch “The Rock Music Museum”

13:00 - 17:00 Status and results from MainSafeTraceJapan work packages and specific activities

- Introduction – Jostein Storøy
- Project communication on different levels; eRoom, home page (Tracefood.org) - Eskil Forås, Jostein Storøy
- Traceability Control Mechanisms – Rasa Slizyte, Inger Beate Standal, Michiaki Yamashita, Iciar Martinez (30 min)
- Stakeholder analyses – Jun Sakai, Maitri Thakur, Jostein Storøy (30 min)
- Process mapping – Petter Olsen (30 min)
- Critical quality points in the mackerel chain – Eskil Forås, Ida Aursand (30 min)
- Simulated recalls – Jun Sakai, Kathryn Donnelly (30 min)
- ICT solutions – Finn Olav Bjørnson, Eskil Forås, Petter Olsen (30 min)
- Others
- Break – with refreshments around 15:30

19:00 Dinner at local sushi restaurant – The Sushi Bar

Wednesday September 1

09:00 - 11:00 Discussions on need for improvement of research methods applied in traceability and food safety oriented projects;

- Stakeholder Questionnaire – Maitri Thakur, Jun Sakai, Jostein Storøy
- Process mapping method – Eskil Forås, Maitri Thakur, Petter Olsen
- HACCP method – Eskil Forås, Ida Aursand, Rasa Slizyte
- Simulated recall method – Jun Sakai, Yuka Fukasawa, Kathryn Donnelly, Jostein Storøy
- Traceability Control Mechanism methods, Michiaki Yamshita, Shintaro Imamura, Iciar Martinez, Ida Aursand, Rasa Slizyte, Inger Beate Standal
- Cost Benefit analyses – present status on the area, Maitri Thakur, Petter, Kathryn, etc

11:00 - 12:00 Discussion: How can we involve the industry more (response and interaction), and how can we cooperate better with our industrial partners? Experiences so far – Jostein Storøy

12:00 Lunch at The Rock Music Museum

13:00 - 14:30 Further plans for MainSafeTraceJapan (Jostein Storøy and others)

- Action plan next 12 months
- Large industry meeting in Tokyo April 2011 – Brainstorming on agenda points
- Research cooperation in the MainSafeTraceJapan project – room for improvements?

14:30 - 15:30 Further plans and opportunities for project cooperation between Japan and Norway (and Spain) – Jostein Storøy

15:30 – 16:00 Summary – Jostein Storøy, others

Participants

Mr. Jun Sakai, Chief Researcher, Food Marketing Research and Information Center (FMRIC), Japan
 Ms. Yuka Fukasawa, Researcher, Food Marketing Research and Information Center (FMRIC), Japan
 Dr. Prof. Michiaki Yamshita, Chief, Food Biotechnology Section, National Research Institute of Fisheries Science (NRIFS), Japan
 Dr. Shintaro Imamura, Researcher, Food Biotechnology Section, National Research Institute of Fisheries Science (NRIFS), Japan
 Mr. Keisuke Nakayama, Senior Market Advisor, Innovation Norway, Japan
 Dr. Iciar Martinez, Profesora de Investigación, Instituto de Investigaciones Marinas (CSIC), Spain
 Mr. Petter Olsen, Senior Researcher, Nofima, Norway
 Ms. Kathryn Donnelly, Researcher, Nofima, Norway
 Mr. Eskil Forås, Research manager, SINTEF, Norway
 Dr. Finn Olav Bjørnson, Researcher, SINTEF, Norway
 Dr. Maitri Thakur, Researcher, SINTEF Norway
 Dr. Ida Aursand, Research Manager, SINTEF, Norway
 Dr. Rasa Slizyte, Researcher, SINTEF, Norway
 Dr. Inger Beate Standal, SINTEF, Norway
 Mr. Jostein Storøy, Research director, SINTEF, Norway
 nn, Norwegian Research Council, Norway